Dear Cartoon Network Mailbox:
I got a new VCR and we're going to record Scooby-Doo shows on it. I love Scooby-Doo comics and read them over and over. I know how to sing Scooby-Doo and even named my Oscar Scooby because he eats just like Scooby. Can you make a comic with Scooby-Dum? Jerry Johnson, Loveland, CO

(Be careful, Jerry, or you'll have the whole world named Scooby-Doo. Yes indeed, we are planning a story with Scooby-Dum. Look for it!)

Dear Cartoon Network Mailbox:
Your comics are cool! My father buys all your Hanna-Barbera titles. I like The Flintstones a lot and would like to see a story with Pebbles and Bamm-Bamm. My brother likes Scooby-Doo and Yogi. He thinks they're funny. So please keep drawing those H-B titles.

Jaime and Emmanuel Reynoso
Santa Monica, CA

(Jaime and Emmanuel, you both seem very cool too. Thanks for all the kind words and we promise to keep those titles coming!)

Dear Cartoon Network Mailbox:
I really like the Scooby-Doo TV Show and comic books. But what I don't like is that Scooby and Shaggy have to do all the work. Can you make some episodes where Fred, Daphne and Velma do all the work?

Joey Shipley
Covington, GA

(Gee, Joey, we don't really think that Scooby and Shaggy do all the work. They all seem to work together at things, each doing very different kinds of things. By working together, they get great results, sort of like a family, don't you think? Thanks so much for your interesting observation.)

Dear Cartoon Network Mailbox:
I'm writing to tell you how much I enjoy your comics, especially Scooby-Doo. That's why I have an idea for a story. What if Daphne and Velma wake up one morning and, to their surprise, they find their hair has turned platinum blonde. How could this have happened? Could it be the shampoo they use? Could it be a convention of platinum blondes? Or could it just be a bad dream?

Arthur Whitaker, Jr.
Dearing, GA

(I don't know if we could make a comic story of this, Arthur. But what might be fun is to toss out this story to our other readers and ask them how they would finish this story. Any of you out there have any ideas?)

Dear Cartoon Network Mailbox:
I really love the episodes of the H-B Super Adventure Show airing on the Cartoon Network. Any chance of seeing a comic book with any of these characters? I loved these great H-B characters as a child and now that I'm an adult, my eight year old son JT and I love them even more.

Joe Beck
Urbana, Ohio

(Thanks, Joe, for your wonderful note. I hope you don't miss our issue of Frankenstein Jr. and The Impossibles and soon-to-be published Space Ghost. If these are successful, we certainly would try some others.)

Dear Fred Flintstone:
How's life in Bedrock? Everything going OK? I hope so. This is my first letter to you and I want you to know that I just love your comics. They're hilarious. Is it great going all day in the sun and working? I hope not, heh, heh. Give my love to Wilma, Pebbles, Dino, Barney, Betty and Wilma. I love you all, and just can't get enough of your comics. Keep up the good work. Ye Myat Tun,

Langon
Burma

(What a great letter, Ye. Would we call you Ye? Please let us know. You do tell us that Burma is now known as Myanmar. That is interesting for us. I'm sure that Fred would be thrilled to receive this letter and would thank you with a big Yabba-Dabba-Doo! Anyone else out there have some things they'd like to say to any of the other Cartoon Network stars!)

Dear Cartoon Network Mailbox:
I would like to congratulate you on your superb job on Scooby #11. The art was terrific. The comic itself was indescribably funny. By the way, I think you should make more issues of "A Pup Named Scooby-Doo."

Patrick Hughes
Lynwood, IL

(Thanks so much, Patrick, for caring so much for Scooby and a Pup Named Scooby. Would love to hear more comments from you folks on both those books.)
